is shown by the raising up of the palms of the priest. The de-mons and the assemblies of the unjust are scat - tered; the foolish acts of the god - less are re - proved.

Cantor: My soul is waiting for the Lord. I count on his word.
(on 4) My soul is longing for the Lord more than watchman for daybreak.

The word of your prophets Isaiah and David is now fulfilled, for they spoke of you,
O Lord, and said: All the nations shall come to you and bow before you.
Behold the people who are now filled with your grace in your sanctuary in the temple of Je-ru-sa-lem. O God of goodness who suffered on the Cross for us and gives us life through your holy re-sur-rec-tion, pro-tect us with your care

O mar-tyr Tro - phi - mus, you yearned to possess the ever-last-ing nour-ish - ment.
You nour-ished yourself by bod - i - ly pains. You have passed from corrup-tion to in-cor-rup - tion. Now you re-joice, having been blessed by your wit - ness.
O bless-ed one, by your pray'rs, ob-tain great mer - cy for all of us.

Cantor: Praise the Lord, all you nations, Psalm 116
(on 2) acclaim him all you peoples!

The glo - rous Sabba-ti - us suf-fered tor - tures and now is worthy to celebrate joyfully in the heav - en - ly courts. He has been hon-ored for his deeds

Now that you reign with Christ, pray for all of us.

Cantor: (Tone 4) Glory...

Postfestive doxastikon of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross - Tone 4 samohlasen

Let us raise our voic - es to - day and sing in hon-or of this feast, and with radiant faces let us cry out in a loud voice: For us you accepted con - dem - na - tion, O Christ; you were spat up - on and scourged;

you were wrapped in a pur - ple robe and have as - cend - ed the Cross.
See-ing you, the sun and moon hid their light, the earth quaked in fear, and the veil of the tem-ple was torn in two. Now give us your precious Cross as our guar-di - an, our pro - tec - tor which drives a-way the de - mons, that embracing it, we may all cry out: Save us, O Cross, by your might,
and strength - en us by your ex - al - ta - - tion for you have been giv - en to us as the light and sal - va - tion of our souls.
